

Civil servants' labour leaders have slammed the Progressive Teachers 'Union of Zimbabwe for threatening to go on strike when salary negotiations with Government are only just starting. PTUZ secretary-general Mr Raymond Majongwe and his president, Mr Takavafira Zhou, have threatened to embark on an industrial action when schools open next Tuesday if Government fails to increase civil servants' salaries. Created..... 10 January 2014 Read more.....